Thirteen women will help shape the nation's destinies as members of the 88th Congress. Only newcomer to the feminine contingent is Rep. Reid of Aurora, Ill., a 48-year old widow who succeeds her late husband, Frank, in the office. Of the 13, five are Republicans: Sen. Smith and Reps. Dwyer, St. George, May and Bolton. The latter, a member of the Foreign Affairs Committee, has the longest record of service, beginning her 12th House term.

Two-Stage Tax Slash Is Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional sources expect President Kennedy to propose a relatively modest income tax cut effective July 1, to be followed by a second reduction next year. The two-stage reduction, they said, will add up to about $10 billion.

This would be offset to a still-unknown extent by eliminating or modifying some of the present exemptions and special treatment of income.

The tax message Kennedy has said he will send Congress late this month is expected to anticipate increased deficits for a year or two, but to argue that spending and investment stimulated by a tax cut would soon increase revenues enough to take up the slack.

General outlines of the proposals may be included in Kennedy's State of the Union message Monday and the budget submitted Thursday.

As for the chances that Congress will enact the presidential program, one source put it this way:

"All that is certain is that there is no chance of a tax cut effective any earlier than July 1. There is some chance that a bill could be passed during the year and the effective date set back to July 1."

He said it would be a major accomplishment for both houses to complete hearings, bill writing and floor action on a measure as

Thick Fog Hampers Salem Area Traffic

Thick fog hung over Salem and most of Ohio this morning, slowing traffic to a crawl and keeping virtually all airports in the state closed.

The fog is expected to linger in the area with freezing drizzle or snow flurries hitting the Salem area tonight.

Major airports in Akron-Canton, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Dayton and Columbus and smaller ones throughout the state were shut down Friday night and are expected to remain closed most of today and tonight.

U. S. Weather Bureau officials predict the mercury will dip into the low 20s tomorrow with heavier winds and scattered snow flurries.

To Become Top National Guard Unit 37th Division Begins Major Overhaul Job

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's 37th Infantry Division, which went through one major overhaul in 1959, is beginning another — one which will make the National Guard division among the most modern in the nation.

Since 1959 and the change from the World War triangular concept, the 37th has been a pentomic division, one with five battle groups, which took the place of the former regiments.

Now, the Pentagon, acting on the recommendation of the recent governors' conference, has given the go-ahead to the Buckeye division and other reserve component divisions throughout the nation to become ROAD organizations.

The initials which adequately fit the infantry division, stand for Reorganized Objective Army Division.

"It's a step in the right direction," Maj. Gen. Loren G. Windom, commander of the 37th, said of the reorganization. "Of course there is always more to be desired."

The step in the right direction means that under the ROAD concept the division will become more flexible and more mobile in that it will have more facilities to utilize airborne operations more aircraft within the division and can operate independently for extended periods.

Under the new plan, which will go into operation as soon as Ohio's National Guard strength is determined in the current realignment, the five battle group headquarters will be combined into three brigade headquarters. The main fighting elements will include eight infantry battalions of four companies each and two tank battalions.

The division will be capable of operating as a unit or, by utilizing the brigade headquarters, split, giving the brigades enough battalions to accomplish a desired mission.

Turning to the more modern weapons, the 37th will expand its present Honest John rocket capabilities from a battery to a battalion and antitank rockets will be added to the weapons companies within the infantry battalions.

Also, the present aviation company will be expanded to a battalion and the division will have a total of 103 helicopters and airplanes.

Actual realignment of the present units into the new ROAD division plan will be delayed, however, until after the state is given its authorized strength for its National Guard.

Presently the 37th has 88 units in 67 communities throughout the state. "We certainly hope that we will be able to maintain that 88-unit level in the new division," Gen. Windom said.

The 37th and all Ohio National Guard units currently are in the midst of their biggest recruiting drive since 1957. The division has about 9,000 officers and enlisted men.

2 Men Are Denied Driving Licenses

LISBON — Two Salem area residents lost their driver's licenses for one year under the state's 12-point demerit system Friday.

Common Pleas Court Judge Raymond S. Buzzard suspended their permits after a report from the State Department of Motor Vehicles showed a total of 12 points with a two-year period. They are:

William H. Hurst, 53, of 269 W. Pershing St., two convictions for driving while intoxicated, one on July 24, 1961, and the other on Nov. 11, 1962.

John Pascola, 63, RD 3, two convictions for driving while his license was under revocation one Oct. 12, 1961, and the other Nov. 19, 1962.

Tshombe Flees U.N. Forces to N. Rhodesia

Katanga Leader Expected To Signal Last-Ditch Stand

NDOLA, Northern Rhodesia (AP) — Katanga President Moise Tshombe arrived in British-controlled Northern Rhodesia today after a secret dash from Elisabethville.

Diplomats speculated he plans to give the signal for a last-ditch stand against U.N. forces.

The Katanga leader met briefly with members of his Cabinet here, then told a news conference he would return to Elisabethville tonight and go to Kolwezi on Monday. Kolwezi, key mining center 150 miles northwest of Elisabethville, is the last important town held by Katanga gendarmes and Tshombe's white mercenaries.

Diplomatic sources and U.N. officials in Elisabethville said they doubted that Tshombe would return to the provincial capital. They felt that he would head directly for Kolwezi, where his men have mined vital industrial installations. Tshombe has threatened repeatedly to blow up the installations if the U.N. troops attempt to take the town by force.

U.N. troops advancing toward Kolwezi from Jadotville were last reported about 50 miles from the town.

The British and Belgian consuls in Elisabethville who saw Tshombe, minutes before he slipped out in a police jeep, described him as a frightened and dejected man. He appeared to be on his last leg in his long struggle to keep his wealthy province independent of the Congo.

Tshombe traveled by bush roads to reach Ndola, just across the Rhodesian border.

The two consuls said they tried vainly to persuade Tshombe not to go, but said he was alarmed by the sudden arrival in Elisabethville of 60 officers of the Congolese national army and a Leopoldville delegation headed by Congolese Premier Cyrille Adoula's personal adviser.

Western diplomats said that Tshombe had refused to sign a document agreeing to U.N. freedom of movement in Katanga and recognizing President Joseph Kasavubu as head of a reintegrated Congo. Some sources said he now faces the threat of arrest and transfer to Leopoldville, where charges of treason could be laid against him.

74-Year-Old Soldier Retires In N. Carolina

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (AP) — M. Sgt. Charles E. (Pop) Burt, who was over-age when he made his only parachute jump, is retiring from the Army. He is 74 years old.

Burt, who retired Friday after 36 years in the Army, will live in Fayetteville, only a few miles from Ft. Bragg.

The jaunty native of Rockford, Ill., spent the past two decades as a cook with the famed 82nd Airborne Division. He made his only parachute jump in North Africa in 1943.

When Burt made his jump he was attached to the 505th Parachute Infantry Regiment commanded by Col. James Gavin, who later became commander of the 82nd and U.S. ambassador to France.

The 505th arrived in Casablanca in early 1943 and had a month to get ready before jumping in Sicily.

"We needed every man we could get," Gavin recalled. "I asked Sgt. Burt about coming and he said he was glad to... (but) it turned out he had surpassed

School Official Blames Latest Incident on Meredith

One Student Suspended For Part In Mississippi U. Riot

OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—One student was suspended Friday night by University of Mississippi authorities who sternly warned against more demonstrations protesting the presence of James H. Meredith on the campus.

Meanwhile, the 29-year-old Negro was spending the weekend at the university, studying for semester examinations.

The warning came minutes before Meredith went to supper in the campus cafeteria where noisy students had jeered him three nights in succession. When Meredith arrived at the cafeteria, campus security police were out in full force.

Identification cards of all students were checked at the entrance to the cafeteria and key university officials circulated in the building and outside.

When Meredith entered, his identification card was studied almost a half minute by a blue-uniformed university policeman.

"That's the first time I've had to show it," Meredith said to a newsman behind him.

Meredith took his tray into the west wing of the dining hall and most of the students picked up their trays, walking silently away. Students had jeered Meredith and shouted curse words to him Wednesday and Thursday nights. There were no incidents Friday.

While Meredith was dining, the Student Judicial Council was in emergency session to consider disciplinary action against one student apprehended in Thursday night's demonstration. The unidentified youth was suspended.

Meredith said he decided to remain on campus for the weekend to study for the examinations which begin next Thursday, but added he might go to Memphis, Tenn., today on business.

Earlier Friday, Chancellor J. D. Williams said the latest series of developments were Meredith's fault.

"We were getting along quietly and normal," said Williams.

Jail Escapee From Warren Is Captured

A former Columbiana County resident, one of five who escaped Friday morning from the Trumbull County jail in Warren, was apprehended early last night while hitch-hiking on Route 7 near East Fairfield.

Jerry Bryant, 25, of North Lima, who has relatives and friends in the area where he was taken into custody offered no resistance when found by Sheriff Russell VanFossan and Deputy Howard Gray.

Bryant, whose capture culminated a search that lasted for five hours in the East Fairfield and East Palestine areas, was turned over to Trumbull deputies last night at the county jail in Lisbon.

Acting on a tip that Bryant had been seen for the second time in the East Fairfield vicinity, Sheriff VanFossan said he and Gray began cruising on Route 7 and spotted Bryant about 6:16 p.m., approximately a mile north of the small community.

"Bryant was unarmed and his only weapons were a penknife and a hair brush," the sheriff said.

Bryant had made his way back

DiSalle Still Studying Plea For Clemency

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, who has spent countless hours studying the Edythe Klumpp murder case in the past two years, is still busy with it in his last two days in office.

The governor, who commuted the Cincinnati woman's death sentence after a lengthy personal investigation two years ago, is awaiting a recommendation from the Pardon and Parole Commission on Mrs. Klumpp's clemency plea.

DiSalle has said he will not act until he receives a report from the commission, which conducted a clemency hearing Friday. But at the same time he asserted he will not be bound to follow the recommendation.

Friday's hearing in the commission offices here amounted to a virtual replay of Mrs. Klumpp's 1958 trial at which she was convicted of killing her lover's wife, Mrs. Louise Bergen.

The attorneys were the same—William F. Hopkins defending Mrs. Klumpp, and C. Watson Hoyer, Hamilton County prosecutor, insisting justice has been done in the case.

Hopkins urged the commission to act with speed adding that the governor has worked hard on the case and deserves an opportunity to make the final decision on possible clemency.

He added that DiSalle's 1961 decision to spare the woman from the electric chair was "one of the most courageous actions in my memory."

Hoyer and Hopkins agreed that Mrs. Klumpp, twice divorced mother of four, lied at her trial.

ment of the exploratory talks.

They will be held against a background of growing, but cautious, hope that a final agreement on the test ban may prove negotiable. But the fact is, according to the best available information here, neither the Soviet Union nor the United States has recently indicated any change in its position on the crucial issue of inspection.

Semyon K. Tsarapkin, Soviet negotiator in various disarmament talks in Geneva, is in New York and informants say the United States will be represented by William C. Foster, chief of the U.S. Disarmament Agency.

Disarmament, including the test ban problem, came up in formal talks Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Kasily Kuznetsov had here this week with President Kennedy.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Foster, Kuznetsov is reported to have spoken optimistically about the prospects for some agreement though he did not indicate, according to U.S. informants, how this might be achieved.

The heart of the problem after several years of negotiations is the amount and kind of inspection

The crash of a semi-truck and a car at 7:45 a.m. today on Alternate Route 14 at the junction of Route 165, northwest of Salem, brought serious injury to James Schwartzoff, 17, of 656 N. 12th St., Sebring.

Schwartzoff was admitted to Youngstown South Side Hospital where he underwent surgery for amputation of the left leg. He also received lacerations of the left forehead.

Traveling east on fog-shrouded Route 165, Schwartzoff was unable to stop for a stop sign and was struck by the truck driven by Chester E. Bonar, 45, of RD 2, West Alexander, Pa., who was southbound on Route 14.

Bonar was not hurt. Riding with James Schwartzoff was his brother, John, who was treated and will be released for abrasions of the left arm, left leg and face.

Pollution of Beaver Creek Is Accusation

Township Trustees Join Complaint; Nease Employs 30

The Ohio Department of Health late yesterday closed the Nease Chemical Company plant on the Benton Road on the grounds that wastes from one of the city's newest industries were causing stream pollution.

The action was taken by Dr. Ralph E. Dwork of Columbus, state director of health, following numerous complaints by sportsmen and others that chemicals from the factory were killing fish all along Beaver Creek and extending as far south as Lisbon.

The Nease Chemical Co. of State College, Pa., began operations at its new $1 million dollar facility here Oct. 19, 1961, after the Salem Area Development Corporation was successful in having the Pennsylvania firm choose Salem as a site for its expanding business.

Joseph F. Taricani, treasurer of Nease Chemical, had told The News Jan. 1 that the company expected to have its plant here in full productive capacity this year after overcoming some difficulties last year.

The city of Salem last fall extended water lines to the plant on Alternate Rt. 14 just northwest of the city after the company invested heavily in new construction to make the plant "freeze-proof." Severe winter weather early last winter forced the plant

City Council Acts On Two Emergencies

In special session called at 11 a.m. today, Salem City Council unanimously passed two finance ordinances with emergency clauses.

One ordinance allows appropriations for current city expenses for the first three months of 1963. The ordinance was passed as an emergency in order that city employees could be paid on schedule next Tuesday.

The other ordinance transfers $9,000 from the general fund to the city poor relief fund. A special council meeting to consider this ordinance had been originally scheduled for 5:15 p.m. Monday but was changed to this morning.

The transfer covers a $8,000 relief fund deficit incurred by the city relief department and brought to light Friday by City Auditor Helen Coyne and Acting Council Finance Committee Chairman James Aldom.

Mrs. Ruth Berry is city relief director.

General Assembly Faces Bumpy, Longer-Than-Usual '63 Session

By WILLIAM S. VANCE
Repository Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, Ohio—After two days of oiling its lawmaking machinery, the 105th Ohio General Assembly is poised for a trip down a legislative road that looks at the outset as bumpy as ever and longer than usual.

How much grinding of gears there will be once the machinery gets moving is open to conjecture.

But some seasoned lawmakers and the people who make it their business to watch them in action take their cue from the state's massive money problems that there will be no quick, easy way out in this session.

And there were signs in the Senate during opening week that a determined and well organized Democratic minority will make things interesting, if not difficult, for their colleagues across the aisle.

House Trading Sought

While the House moved swiftly through routine housekeeping chores, the Senate got hung up on a couple of resolutions that touched off a minority move for some political horse trading.

Senate Republicans split over a House-passed resolution to permit clerks of both houses to procure legislative printing. It was intended as an interim solution to a contract dispute now in the courts between Columbus Blank Book Co. and F. J. Heer Printing Co.

Only a dozen GOP senators were reported in favor of the resolution, which meant 10 Democratic votes were needed to pass the measure as emergency legislation.

After a caucus, minority members revealed they offered to swap the needed votes for rehiring of a $600-a-month administrative aide to Minority Leader Frank King of Toledo. But Majority Leader C. Stanley Mechem wouldn't buy the trade and adjourned the session.

Temporary Plan Hatched

The clerks then worked out a day-to-day arrangement with the Heer firm, which has been doing the printing for 50 years.

The other roadblock developed just prior to the inaugural recess late Tuesday when the Democrats stalled emergency passage of a patronage resolution they termed too one-sided.

King has demanded a full-time page such as Mechem has. Others, including Ed Witmer, D-Canton, are pushing for staff jobs for some people back home.

The Republicans want a couple of Democratic votes to make the resolution an emergency measure so the staffers they've employed can start drawing pay. Whether they're willing to swap jobs for the votes may be decided Monday night when the resolution probably will come up again.

How Long for 105th

1-14 — HOW LONG for 105th? ... How long will the 105th be in session?

Outgoing Gov. Michael V. DiSalle wound up his swan song to the joint session Tuesday with, "Best wishes for a productive and short session."

But few legislators are counting on a short one. Most agree that sessions will lengthen in proportion to the growth of the state and its problems.

Some figure July 1 is a likely target date, but they aren't offering any odds on it. Others say they won't be surprised if the session goes into mid-August.

The shortest session in recent years was in 1959 when the assembly cleaned up its work at the end of May.

Two years ago the legislature adjourned in July but reconvened in November to resolve a budget battle.

The legislative printing controversy surrounding Columbus Blank Book Co. and F. J. Heer Printing Co. was a popular State-house topic during opening week.

Among other things, it produced this pun from a House member, who said with a yawn:

"Well, that's the way it goes, men; Heer today, gone tomorrow."

More of Fair Sex

The fair sex will play a bigger role in state government this year.

Seven women, the most in at least a decade, are among the 137 House members.

Four are veterans of at least three terms: Reps. Anne Donnelly, D-Cuyahoga; Bernice K. MacKenzie, D-Starke; Ethel G. Swanbeck, R-Erie; and Clara E. Weisenborn, R-Montgomery.

The three newcomers: Reps. Margaret Dennison, R-Trumbull; Mary E. McGowan, D-Summit; and Marigene Valiquette, D-Lucas.

Farm News

Topics of Interest To Farmers; Notes About Meetings

1963 Feed Grain Program

Provisions of the 1963 Feed Grain Program, generally follow those of 1961 and 1962, but, there are some important changes, Dr. Wallace Barr, Ohio State University extension economist, points out.

Growers of corn, barley and grain sorghum may participate in the program by reducing their farm base acreages of these crops a minimum of 20 per cent, Dr. Barr says. Or they may reduce it up to 40 per cent, or 25 acres, whichever is greater. Those who sign up and follow agreements will be eligible for diversion payments and price support payments. They also will be eligible for loans under the price support loan program.

A change in the program provides growers price support partly through loans and purchase agreements and partly through direct payments. Growers who sign up to participate in the program must fulfill their agreements to remain eligible for price supports, direct payments or diversion payments.

18 Cents Bushel on Corn

The direct payment on acres planted to corn will be 18 cents per bushel. For other qualifying feed grains, the price support payment in kind will be 29 cents per hundredweight for grain sorghum and 14 cents per bushel for barley.

Acreages of corn, grain sorghum and barley (1959-60 average acreage, as adjusted) will be combined into one feed grain base for each farm. A farmer may choose to divert one or more of these crops in the total base and receive payment at the per-acre rate for a particular grain or grains diverted.

A farmer who participates in the program may put all of his 1963-crop corn, grain sorghum and barley under price support loans. This differs from provisions of 1961 and 1962 programs, which limited price support to normal production of harvested acreage.

Diverted Acreage

Acreages diverted to conservation crops are to be in addition to conserving acreage and idle land on a farm for 1959 and 1960. Payments for the first 20 per cent will be at rates reflecting 20 per cent of county support rates (includes $1.07 loan rate plus 18 cents direct payment in the U.S.) on the normal production of diverted acres.

On any diversion above the 20 per cent minimum acreage, and up to the larger of 40 per cent, or 25 acres, payment will be 50 per cent of the county support rate. On farms on which the feed grain base is 25 acres or less the entire base may be diverted and the payment will be at a rate reflecting 50 per cent of the county support rate.

Growers may take their payment in kind by certificates, which may be redeemed from Commodity Credit Corporation stocks. Or they may choose to be paid in cash and have CCC assist them in marketing the grains covered by the certificates. Farmers can get a portion of their payment when they sign up to participate in the program.

Stenographer Evades Taxes For 20 Years

CHICAGO (AP) — A stenographer says she hasn't paid her income taxes—an estimated $24,000—in 20 years because she believes the Veterans Administration has cheated her mentally invalid brother.

Miss Olga Hobeck, 57, Thursday disclosed in a letter to the Internal Revenue Service that she had evaded paying income taxes by claiming four dependents on her payroll deduction although she supports only herself and her brother.

Miss Hobeck, who said she never has filed a tax return, works for a Loop law firm for $90 a week. She said she doesn't have much money but she would be willing to pay her back taxes if her brother, Arthur, 50, could get compensation from the Veterans Administration.

"I haven't even got a thousand dollars," Miss Hobeck said. "But unless they (the VA) help my brother, I'd go to jail rather than pay. If only he had been given $15 a week, I wouldn't have done it."

Miss Hobeck said her brother suffered a nervous breakdown in the Army in 1941 and after five months service was honorably discharged as a schizophrenic, or split personality. He has been unable to work since.

The VA said Hobeck was discharged in August 1941, before the start of World War II, and therefore does not qualify for compensation.

The IRS said Miss Hobeck's letter had not yet reached "proper channels." A spokesman said her case will be assigned for review and examination, a procedure the IRS follows when a taxpayer reports an irregularity in return.

Billie Sol Estes Turns to Religion

CLEVELAND (AP)—Billie Sol Estes says he used to spend most of his time "worrying about building an empire" but now is happier because "I have time to work for Christ."

The onetime financial wizard said he has not done any wrong intentionally and that he is not worried about his forthcoming federal trial or the possibility of going to jail on a swindling conviction in a Texas court.

Estes, free on $5,000 bond pending appeal of his conviction late last year at Tyler, Tex., appeared Thursday night at the Addison Road Church of Christ.

Estes said he felt his God had justified him, "and that's all that counts with me."

He told a newsman he is happier than ever before now that he has time "to serve the lord"

DO YOU NEED DIRECTIONS?

Public libraries today are filled with "how to do it" books. From them we may learn to do almost anything from baking a cake to building a house, from managing a home to conducting a business. But by far the most important are the books which show us how to build our lives.

The greatest among these is the Bible, a book which has withstood the test of centuries. Within it are God's directions for abundant living. But it is not easy to put these directions into practice. We need help.

We turn to the Church. In the Church we find inspiration through the companionship of others who with us strive for a better life. There, in prayer and worship, we know the blessings of God, the Father. We learn to follow the example of the Christ, and feel the power of His Spirit who alone enables us to live the abundant life.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

You're On the Air

There is no great likelihood of serious consideration this year of the broadcasting industry's campaign to put microphones and cameras into hearings of House of Representatives committee hearings. But if the issue comes to a decision again, this should be clear:

The industry's only reason for thinking about committee hearings as suitable material for its programs is its hope of putting on a show.

It is thinking of something as good as the Army-McCarthy hearing and that famous traveling crusade against crime headed by Estes Kefauver.

The truth is, there aren't many committee hearings that good.

But a more penetrating truth is that these two memorable hearings wouldn't have been that good if the participants hadn't been in "show business."

They were aware to the roles they were playing and the dramatic possibilities that had been opened to their wondering eyes. Being aware of these important facts, they gave the audience a run for its money.

This is the weakness of the idea. We don't need play-actors.

UNDER THE so-called "Rayburn rule" handed down in 1952, radio and television have been barred from House proceedings.

The "Rayburn rule" is in two parts. One part gives the speaker of the House general control of its proceedings. The other part gives the Rules Committee the right to set House rules.

The second part could be altered suddenly and drastically if the Democrats' fight to conceal their party schism by packing the Rules Committee again as they did in 1961 so infuriates Rep. Howard W. Smith of Virginia that he "permits" a change in the rules.

Senate procedure allows committee chairmen to permit broadcasters and photographers at their own discretion, though these functionaries are not to be permitted in the Senate chamber under ordinary circumstances.

ACTUALLY, in the years since the question first was raised, following the traveling "show" put on by the Kefauver investigators, the evidence against "live coverage" of congressional hearings and proceedings in the House and Senate has become lopsided.

Members of both houses would react to microphones and cameras the way actors react to the rise of a stage curtain; they would go into their act with all the skill they could bring to bear.

This would make a good "show." But it would be no improvement in government. The presidential press conference ceased to elicit information and began to elicit ham acting when the broadcasting industry muscled in on it.

Government has nothing to gain from play-acting. The broadcasting industry has everything to gain, though even its rosy hopes must be shaded by doubt that enough "good shows" would be forthcoming to justify the cost of being ready to put them on the air at any time.

Change Your Congo Bets

If you have been reading the distressing news from the Congo the last few years and betting the confused and misled Congolese will not achieve political stability in this century, be aware that the probabilities have shifted.

Union Miniere, the international mining combine whose vast holdings in Katanga Province are the main source of Congo wealth, has changed its mind. It has decided to string along with the United Nations and is sending agents from its Brussels headquarters "to assist representatives of the Congolese central government and of Katanga in the drawing and drafting of a project for repatriation of the currency resulting from the sale of Union Miniere products."

The power of decision always has rested with the mining combine, whose managers apparently had hoped to gain something from Katanga's secession from the central Congo government.

The instant the company withdraws any or all of its money support from Katanga President Moise Tshombe, he will have to come to terms. And that instant was going to occur if President Tshombe lost his grip on the Katangese army. That has happened.

Union Miniere now knows its only chance for a stable political environment in which to exploit the copper resources of the Congo is to support the central government, in line with the U.N. effort to unify the country.

But on the Congo to gain political stability ahead of schedule.

The money that was keeping it off balance is going to be "repartitioned." If Union Miniere wants political stability, it can have it at the same price it was paying to keep the Katangese revolt going.

This doesn't mean the Congolese will suddenly be united and compatible, only that the main source of disunification and incompatibility won't last long without money.

Letter From Max

By Martin Miller

Dear Truman Twill:

You probably are as hepped up over this space race as the rest of us and therefore should be concerned about one phase of the space business which has received hardly any attention.

This is the possibility of ourselves and our world having to take a back seat to other forms of life and other planets. Some astronomers estimate there are millions, maybe billions, of planets out there capable of sustaining life.

With all our complaining, we have a good thing going for us here on earth and why jeopardize it by inviting outside interference? We should be happy to be big frogs in our little world rather than risk becoming little frogs in the big universe.

Suppose even a minute fraction of those planets out there produce anything. Anything at all, like automobiles, poems, steel, art appliances entertainment textiles beef wheat, coiffures, cotton, wool, or whatever you care to name.

Heavens knows we are having enough problems right here now where we are top dogs without taking on a million planets.

You don't have to get too concerned about it this minute but if you want to take a long-range view you can imagine our chagrin if trains of space ships from other planets started landing on say, the Atlantic and Pacific, loaded with merchandise produced by miraculously cheap methods undreamed of here on earth.

Sometimes it seems we are borrowing trouble by trying to butt into the universe. Are we ready for it?

Take Mars. This planet is a natural to be several eons ahead of us in armaments. There has been a lot of talk in recent years about missile gaps, and gaps here and gaps there and everywhere a gap, gap. The stature of massive retaliation would be puny indeed when confronted with the God of War, himself.

Or take Neptune. Our Merchant Marine has almost always had tough sailing, figuratively going upstream against a head wind. And even though our Navy is considered the best in the world it would not be fair to put it up against the God of the Sea. With our limited knowledge of what goes on on our neighboring planets it is not too much to suppose that Neptune has long since relegated nuclear submarines to moth-balls.

Saturn was named for the ancient God of Seed Sowing, as if we didn't have enough of a farm problem.

Venus, Goddess of Bloom and Beauty, could put Paris and Fifth Avenue out of business with a wave of her wand. One shudders to contemplate the fate of Dior, Pierre, Fath, Oleg Cassini, Francois Reylon Elizabeth Arden Playtex, Max Factor, peruke designers, Schiaparelli, Helena Rubenstein and other such great names of our age.

Then there is Pluto God of the Lower World, also known as Hades. There are a lot of bad reasons we might want to become more familiar with this planet, but give me one good reason why. All of our ideology points in the other direction, but here we are trying to get closer to the likes of Pluto. It doesn't make sense.

Last, we have the little matter of the United Nations, which is perpetually torn asunder by disagreements on our own little globe. Magnify the problems of the United Nations by infinity and you get a small idea of what we'd have with the United Planets.

Brace yourself. Things will get worse before they get better.

Faithfully yours,
MAX

New Ray of Light Appears In Integration Conflict

By DAVID LAWRENCE

A ray of light has come at last into the controversy over integration in the public schools. It came as a result of the Thanksgiving ship game, at Washington.

Day race riot when the football teams from two high schools — one almost entirely white and the other predominantly colored — met in an all-city championship game, at Washington.

The report is a lengthy one and deserves national attention. It should be widely publicized, at least among educators who are grappling with the problem of enforced integration in the public schools. Dr. Shane McCarthy, who was a prime mover in the national program for youth fitness under President Eisenhower, headed the commission. In his letter submitting the report, he says in part:

"Integration is a most complicated undertaking. It is not accomplished simply by opening classroom doors. It is not brought about by a paper decision to recognize the rights of fellow citizens. It is not achieved by an emotional urge that follows the prodding of the heart rather than the leadership of the head. We do a grave disservice to boys and girls of both races when we direct them to integrate and thrust them into indiscriminate mingling without the thorough preparation which is a mandate for success in any undertaking."

Some of the teachers in the city's schools declined to testify at the commission's hearings. Some did so privately. Dr. McCarthy adds:

"Not a single teacher to whom I have spoken in the past few weeks was surprised that the outbreak (on Thanksgiving Day) took place. Uniformly came the response, 'Why should we be? We live with this brand of conduct every day in the schools.'"

THE STATEMENT by Dr. McCarthy also declares that teachers are reluctant to report to the police misconduct in everyday life at the schools, and that crime goes unpunished.

The main report of the committee, rendered after five weeks of investigation, speaks of an "atmosphere of lawlessness" in the public schools. The report says in part on this point:

"Testimony before the full committee developed an awareness of administrative lack of control over hoodlum elements in the school system and a deteriorating condition in mass audience events outside of the school buildings.

"Violence, assaults, disrespect of teachers are acts of an undesirable element of students. An atmosphere of 'permissiveness' has discouraged the personnel of many schools and caused a city-wide lessening of discipline standards. Fear rages through many school buildings which have become tramping grounds for outside influences, including thugs, hoodlums and persons of the lowest character.

"The school administration has difficulty in coping with this situation. The morale of many teachers has suffered and the percentage of resignations and transfers has increased. Nevertheless, school officials fail to cooperate with police and report violations of the law nor do they maintain a citywide reporting system of incidents of misconduct. With such a climate in the school system, students receive little discipline, little guidance and little incentive to develop strong citizenship qualities in far too many cases and the result has been a steadily worsening misconduct problem in the public schools."

"Who Says No News Is Good News?"

Iron Whim Backed With Gold

By VICTOR RIESEL

Jimmy Hoffa has a whim of iron. And Hoffa's coiffers have the gold to back it. It can now be reported that his Teamsters spent more than $480,000 in the last few months on a futile raid of another union's territory because he decided it would be nice to capture the communications field.

Though the Teamsters Brotherhood was dumsily defeated the other day in their drive to grab 17,200 skilled and defense-vital telephone installers, Hoffa still is trying to invade the national telephone system. By the time his newest whimsical drive is over he'll have spent a million dollars worth of truck drivers' dues on his latest ambition.

Few realize how farflung and "in depth" is his invasion of the national and international telephone and defense system. He moved like a chief of staff.

Since the installers already were members of the impeccable Communication Workers of America (CWA), Hoffa decided to raid it.

FIRST he set up the Teamster Communications Division. This in turn published a newspaper called the "Crusader" — another whimsical thought of Brother Hoffa's. Then he put together a central staff of 19 special organizers. They, in turn were directed by a Ken Silvers, operating out of the Indiana Bank Building, Evansville, Ind.

Then they charted the nation. They aimed first at the 17,200 installers of the Western Electric Co. These men work in 7,400 cities and towns in 44 states — as well as on some of our most sensitive secret defense operations, such as the Primary Alerting Network in Europe and Africa, and something called the Joint Chiefs of Staff Alerting Network.

A nationwide system of special invasion headquarters was set up for the actual assault on the Communications Workers and the entire Bell Telephone System, of which Western Electric is only a section. Biggest of the headquarters was here in New York.

OTHER COMMAND posts were in Washington, D. C., Atlanta, Chicago, and San Francisco. On July 19, 1962 all Teamster vice presidents, general organizers, joint councils and local unions were personally alerted by Hoffa. They were directed to throw into the raid Hundreds of the Teamsters 5,000 officials were heaved into the drive.

It had a Madison Ave. touch all the way. Nothing was overlooked. At one point the Teamster propagandists sent a stick of gum to the installers. On the wrapper was a job at the Communications Workers Union:

"For that bad taste in your mouth, chew this stick of gum." Many of the loyalists chewed it all right. But they remained it with a note saying, "We don't want to get stuck with the Teamsters."

Hoffa's experts with telephone set up "communicators." These were a transcontinental system of taped recordings. Installers were asked to dial a number.

Then a recorded voice insulted the Communications Workers and their president, Joseph Beirne, a hard-hitting but scholarly chap often talked of as the future leader of the merged labor movement. These messages were changed every 24 hours.

THERE WERE tens of thousands of hand pamphlets, personal letters, visits, mass meetings. All were aimed at disaffecting the 17,200 installers from the CWA.

Finally the Teamsters went to the National Labor Relations

Board (NLRB) with more than 5,100 cards, each signed by an installer, each saying, in effect, the signer was interested in joining the Teamsters. So the NLRB set an election. The ballots were counted in its New York office. So intense was the interest that 96 per cent voted.

The final score was 11,388 for CWA and 4,000 for the Teamsters; 696 against any union affiliation and 121 ballots voided or challenged.

Not only was Hoffa beaten almost 3-1 but some 1,100 of his original supporters abandoned him. To which Joe Beirne says: "This election, for sure, shattered the myth of the invincibility of Teamster money and muscle. If you slug it out with the Teamsters you can win. We demonstrated that you can beat this fellow if you take a firm position."

But Hoffa doesn't appear to be either convinced or broke. He's now going after at least 41,000 other members of CWA — 24,000 employees of the New York Telephone Co. and 17,000 telephone plant workers in northern California.

Hoffa's ambition, like his treasury, apparently runneth over.

Secret Deal Over Cuba?

By LEON DENNEN

Newspaper Enterprise Analyst NEW YORK—As long as President Kennedy keeps tight the lid of secrecy on his correspondence with Nikita Khrushchev over Cuba, diplomats are bound to speculate about a "deal" between the United States and Russia.

The question most persistently asked by worried Latin American officials is: Did the United States pledge to "protect" Fidel Castro's dictatorship as the price for the removal of Soviet offensive weapons from Cuba?

Since we are now again in the era of secret diplomacy, the State Department is not likely to take the American people into its confidence if a secret Russian-United States deal actually exists. A diplomat, as the saying goes, is a truthful and honest man whose job it is to lie for his country. Official diplomatic communications usually gild the facts when they do not distort them outright.

FOR INSTANCE, it took the American people more than a decade to learn about the secret Yalta agreements between President Roosevelt and the Soviet dictator Josef Stalin which made Russia Master over much of Eastern Europe. Will we have to wait another decade before we learn what is in the secret correspondence between President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev?

For the trained observer there are already enough disturbing clues that indicate some deal over Cuba between the United States and Russia.

The current issue of Moscow's global propaganda organ, New Times, says President Kennedy definitely pledged not to invade Cuba—or permit other Western Hemisphere nations to overthrow the Castro regime.

NEW TIMES, like all of the tightly controlled Red press, can only write what the Kremlin rulers dictate. It thus throws light on the Kennedy-Khrushchev negotiations.

The irony is that for the first time a Red journal ostensibly defends an American president against the American press.

For, as Moscow's mouthpiece writes, the United States position against an invasion of Castro's slave state "was already defined by President Kennedy in his exchange of messages with Premier Khrushchev."

The President, according to New Times, "stated, at that time, that if the weapons described as offensive were removed from Cuba, she would not be attacked either by the United States or by other Western Hemisphere countries."

United States to withhold the non-invasion pledge."

THE PRESIDENT said recently that Khrushchev has kept all his well-known commitments made during the Cuban crisis last October. But what about the right of on-site inspection? This condition has never been carried out by Castro. Yet, as Mr. Kennedy repeatedly asserted, such on-site inspection is the only way the United States can really be sure that Russia has removed all its offensive weapons from Cuba.

Why, then, is on-site inspection no longer mentioned in the polite society of Washington's foggy bottom?

WHILE THE UNITED STATES indulges in secrecy Moscow is making propaganda hay out of the Cuban affair. By their hints of a "deal" on Cuba the Russians are sowing suspicion and dissension among the allies of the United States. They are turning the Cuban settlement—acclaimed by President Kennedy's New Frontiersmen as a victory for United States diplomacy—into a triumph for Red blackmail.

So They Say

The Cuban crisis will pass, but there will be further crises. Crisis is a way of life for the Communists.

—Richard M. Nixon.

politicians who wish to capitalize on integration has ignored the fundamental human aspects.

In the public schools in Washington 83 per cent of the students are colored. Integration of the races in the national capital is no different in its obstacles than those faced in the South.

The problems of human relationship will certainly never be solved by bayonets or by sit-in demonstrations or freedom rides or other agitation of that kind. Conformity by coercion will never succeed. An adjustment of race relations will come only when both sides determine what is the practicable and human thing to do, irrespective of the legal phraseology of federal court orders.

Wilson was chosen as a new director to succeed the late C. C. Gibson. Members re-elected include Louis Probst, N. I. Walken, C. S. Carr, G. R. Deming and G. R. Gibson.

Matter of Fact

In order to survive, early man had to take lessons from nature. Nature reduces the moisture content of seeds, as they mature, for safekeeping. Man learned to use the sun and heat from fire to dry out and preserve his own stores. Thus dehydration is one of the oldest known methods of food preservation.

Hints From Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

DEAR HELOISE: Fabric softeners are recommended for preventing static electricity in synthetic fabrics! Also, do people know that the lack of humidity in the air is the chief cause of static? It is more noticeable in dry, overheated homes in the winter... but is practically unheard of in the summertime.

If a washcloth just won't come clean after Junior wipes his face with it (without using soap!), scour the bathtub and basin with the washcloth using a good bleach-containing cleaner. It will also clean the cloth junior used.

When I removed the wallpaper from my bedroom, I discovered very uneven "rough" plaster. No finish coat... the walls looked so bad they reminded me of road maps. I asked my hardware dealer what I could do at minimum cost.

He recommended using texture paint to fill in the uneven places. There are inexpensive brands of texture paint and these can be tinted any shade you like. I used a dark shade to further hide the unevenness, and in some places applied it by rubbing it on with a rag instead of using a brush.

DEAR HELOISE: When I throw out last week's newspapers, I roll them up and tie them with my old nylon stockings. Perfect! They sit behind the garbage can and the wind never plows them away. CONSTANT READER.

DEAR HELOISE: Are you an only child?

AN ONLY CHILD. NO! I have a younger brother and an identical twin sister. Even our husbands can't tell us apart.

DEAR HELOISE: Never throw away that old dish dryer rack.

It's the handiest thing in the world to take in the garden when gathering your beets, potatoes, and so forth. Then, just place your rack under the water faucet or garden hose and let the water spray on the vegetables. One does not need to handle the vegetables when washing them this way and the water with drain off.

"You are hereby ordered and directed to cease operation immediately on this date of the Nease Chemical Company, Inc., plant in Perry Township, Columbiana County and to cease the discharge of any and all industrial and other wastes from such plant until plans for the treatment of all such wastes from such plant have been approved by the Department of Health as provided by Section 3701.19 Revised Code, and such waste disposal facilities installed in accordance with such plans.

"Please be advised that unless this order is complied with, the Department of Health will institute both civil and criminal proceedings necessary to effectuate compliance with the law.

"This is a confirmation of the order sent to you by telegram this date.

Copies of the letter also were sent to the Columbiana County Health Department and the Ohio Division of Sanitary Engineering Northeast District Office at Cuyahoga Falls.

Other Protests Heard

Dr. C. S. Palmer, Columbiana County Health commissioner, and Floyd Lower, county farm agent and also secretary of the Columbiana County Forest and Parks Council, contacted the Ohio Department of Health to protest the dumping of chemical wastes into Little Beaver Creek.

Perry Township trustees, as well as Salem Township trustees, this week appealed to the state to take corrective measures with relation to the stream pollution by Nease Chemical. Joseph Kornbau, president of Perry Township trustees, said their letter to the state was mailed last Tuesday.

Columbiana County Game Warden R. L. Lide, in his weekly "Field and Stream" column in Wednesday's Salem News, commented about the stream pollution situation and told how county sportsmen were irate because the chemical waste was killing fish in Little Beaver Creek which winds its way through the county. The Nease plant was closed today and officials could not be reached for comment on the state's shut-down edict.

And even then, leaders like Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the House Ways and Means Committee would have to overcome their objections to any retroactive feature if the tax savings were to apply to income received as early as July 1.

Kennedy has abandoned his earlier suggestion that the cut be backdated to Jan. 1, 1963.

Quakers Edged By Warren Harding 64-60

Salem Ravens Meet Tonight

By MARK W. MILLER
News Sports Editor

They'll be buzzing in Warren for a couple of weeks, following the Harding 64, Salem 60 sizzler in an Ohio Big 8 Conference clash at Harding Fieldhouse Friday night.

Coach Dick Boyd's aggregation took undisputed first place in the loop with a 4-0 mark, and enhanced its chances for a lofty spot in next week's first poll by upping their season record to 9-1.

Salem certainly must be given some recognition based on poise, determination and for never quitting, even when behind as much as seven points at one time.

The Quakers, who meet Ravens here tonight, lost their third game in eight starts.

THE QUAKERS last night failed to cash in on their foul shots, a great many of them of the one-and-one type.

Even at that Salem left the record crowd of 2,500 fans gasping. So valiant was Salem's courage that the local people leaving the game commented, "they (Warren) were lucky. Salem will get them at tournament time."

The most effective defensive job of the campaign was certainly a factor for the Red and Black's fine showing.

Harding's ace Jim Gardner, who had been averaging 28.7 points a game was held to 19.

The 6-7-three-year-veteran needed only three points last night to give him a career total of 1,000 points.

THE EXPECTED duel between Salem's all-around athlete Bill Beery, and Gardner, was more than mere speculation. The Quakers' three-year-veteran also finished with 19.

There's a rule of thumb that if two powers meet, the hometown club has a decided eight-point advantage playing on its own home floor. Perhaps this helped Warren.

Coach John Cabas said "we didn't have our offense at its best and we should have made some of those fouls."

Harding probably had a harder time with the aggressive Quakers than they did even when losing to Uniontown, Pa., 54-48.

BOTH TEAMS SHOT 40 per cent from the field. Salem attempted 57 field goals and canned 23. Harding swished the nets 25 times in 61 tries at the hoop.

At the foul line Salem tossed in 14 of 26 free throws for 53 per cent. The Panthers had less chances 21, but also made 14 for 66.6 per cent.

The scores exchanged hands at least a dozen times during the game. Harding managed to take a 15-13 lead at the end of the initial period.

A fierce second period saw the Quakers grab the lead on a shot by Beery with 11 seconds to go, and the visitors held a 32-31 margin at intermission.

Salem cooled somewhat in the third stanza and once again fell behind 47-44.

AN EXCITING finish developed in the fourth frame. Flashy Dave Capel, who was in and out for Sweitzer throughout the contest, canned four baskets, three of them in the final moments of the period.

Three other players scored in double figures for the Panthers. Bill Mink collected 18 markers, Mike Richetto had 12 and Eric Snyder came through with 10.

Bob King did a fine job on the boards. He out-rebounded the taller Warren's time-and-time-again.

King, who chalked up 15 points, hauled in 16 rebounds. Marlin Waller cleared the boards nine times for Salem. Warren's Gardner garnered 12 rebounds.

Despite the loss, Salem enjoys a 24-19 margin in the long series between the two schools.

TONIGHT'S SALEM OPPONENT, Ravens, (2-5), has enjoyed little success this season, but you can bet the Ravens will be fired up for Salem.

Coach Clair Muscaro, in his fourth year as the Ravens head man, has led his team to victories over Crestwood 65-56 and Maple Heights 50-33.

Ravens' probable starting lineup will include juniors Bob Hastings 5-11 and Tom Carnes, 6-2, plus seniors Lee Moser 6-0, Chuck Dushman 5-10 and Tom Jones 5-11.

Bill Fullum, a 5-10 junior, will also be used considerably during the clash.

Dushman is the leading scorer for the Ravens with 89 points. Dushman has chalked up 70 markers.

Cabas will probably stick with the same lineup that has participated in the first eight games.

The regulars include Beery, Sweitzer, Rick Platt, King and Waller. Capel will also be in there at times.

Player's 130 Leads Tourney By 1 Stroke

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—As seen today by PGA champion Gary Player of South Africa, tournament golf in the United States is a tough way to make a living.

Player led the way into the third round of the $25,000 San Diego Open, and behind him were the finest back-to-back rounds and the lowest score in his brilliant career—65-130.

But Player's margin of comfort was just one precarious stroke.

As play resumed over the par 35-36-71 Stardust Country Club course, he was 12 shots under par for the route.

His nearest threat was 24-year-old Jacky Cupit of Longview, Tex., whose last big victory was in the Western Open in 1962. He had rounds of 66-131.

Tied at 132 were formidable Bill Casper Jr., with 64-68, and Fred Hawkins, with a pair of 66s.

Lisbon-Columbiana Clash May Hold Key To League Title

Devils Dump Poland 55-45

Pannier Hoops 15 Points for Victors

Coach Gary Pike's Lisbon Blue Devils disposed of the host Poland Bulldogs 55-45 in Tri-County loop action last night and anxiously await their clash with Columbiana's Clippers, who are tied with the county-seaters for the league's top spot, tonight in Lisbon.

With the exception of a brief period in the third canto the Lisbon quintet was never in trouble last night. They moved to a 14-7 advantage at the end of the first period and led 33-17 as they entered the dressing room at half-time.

Poland rallied in the third period and pulled to within just three points of their lanky opponents but the Devils put down the uprising to lead 41-35 at the end of the quarter and went on to win going away.

Versatile Craig Pannier, the bread-and-butter man for the winners, led the way as he hooped five goals and added five more charity tosses for a total of 15 counters. Larry McPherson chipped in with 14 and Ron Crosser added a dozen more.

Bob Lindberg and Gary Walter were high point men for the losers with 10 points each.

Lisbon capped its seventh victory in eight outings and fifth straight in league play while the Bulldogs now stand 2-2 in loop action and 4-4 on the season.

With Columbiana slipping past the surprising Minerva Lions 46-40 last night, the stage is set for what may be the most important game of the year in the area's senior circuit.

Poland will be on the road at East Palestine in another league game tonight.

Michigan Faces OSU In Big 10 Contest Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Michigan, Illinois and Wisconsin hoped to extend their undefeated Big Ten basketball records today.

Michigan's surprising Wolverines, victorious in 10 of 11 games and tied with Illinois and Indiana for the conference lead with a 2-0 record, was likely to have the toughest job.

The Wolverines invade Ohio State tonight and the three-time defending champions plan to make amends for a 90-78 defeat at Illinois Monday. The Buckeyes are 1-1 in the Big Ten.

Illinois was home against Purdue (0-2) and Wisconsin (1-0) took on Michigan State (0-2) in afternoon games. A third matinee, regionally televised, found Iowa (0-2) at Minnesota (0-1), Indiana (2-0) and Northwestern (0-1) were idle.

Michigan, coming from nowhere this season, can stamp itself a legitimate contender by leaving Columbus with a victory. Despite Michigan's record, Ohio State is favored.

Salem JV's Lose 43-40 In Overtime

If some sort of merit could be awarded for improvement it would have to go to the Salem Reserves.

The Quakers' junior varsity gave an indication of what the bigger boys were going to do, when they lost a heatbreaker 43-40 in overtime to the Warren JV's last night.

It was the sixth win in eight starts for Harding who handed Salem its fifth loss in seven tries.

Following the tilt Coach Karl Zellers said, "we looked 100 per cent improved tonight, all we need was a little more scoring."

Salem led for three quarters 8-7, 21-15 and 31-27. Harding managed to tie the game with 11 seconds left and it stood at 38-38 at the end of regulation play.

The Panthers outscored the Quakers 5-3 in the extra session.

North Lima Nipped By W. Reserve

North Lima's Zippers remained on the winless list Friday night as they bowed to the host Western Reserve Blue Devils 51-48 in Inter-County League action.

The loss was the ninth in a row for the Zippers while the Blue Devils notched their fourth victory in eight appearances.

North Lima jumped to an early 12-8 lead at the end of the first canto but couldn't contain the victors' Dick Owen and were on the wrong end of a 17-16 score at intermission. Western Reserve was in front 35-31 going into the final eight minutes.

Owen was a one-man gang last night as the crafty 5-8 junior swished the nets on a variety of shots to sweep game scoring honors with 32 counters. Bill Plaskett and Dave Stear were high for the losers with 11 points each.

North Lima will be back in action tonight battling invading McDonald while Western Reserve meets Mineral Ridge next Friday.

Crestview Wins 58-57 In Overtime Contest

Dave Baker's four foul shots in overtime provided the winning margin Friday as the Crestview Rebels rolled up their sixth loss in seven attempts by nipping a game Lordstown crew 58-57.

The regulation game ended in a 53-53 deadlock and Baker connected on two sets of one-and-one foul shots to account for four of the Rebels' five counters in the extra period.

Crestview had a three - point margin with 15 seconds left in the overtime but a Lordstown player swished the nets just as the final buzzer sounded to account for the one-point margin.

Crestview held a 14-13 lead at the end of the first canto and widened it to four points (27-23) as the half ended. The host club was not beaten yet, however, and knotted the game 42-42 at the three-quarter mark.

At one point in the second stanza Crestview held a seven point advantage but the Rebels couldn't contain Lordstown, which kept battling back.

Crestview's big Jim Kress was held to his season low, as he netted 19 counters. Teammate Alan Cobourn shouldered the rest of the scoring burden, connecting for 17.

Clippers Trip Minerva 46-40

Burbick Nets 18 To Lead Victors

The Columbiana Clippers had to battle for their lives Friday night to stave off a fiercely competitive Minerva Lions aggregation which succumbed, 46-40, in a Tri-County League match that could have gone either way.

Phil Burbick, who starred for the Clippers with 18 markers, was fouled with only 12 seconds remaining in the final quarter with the score, 43-40.

After Burbick clicked on one shot and missed the next, teammate Fred Gosney nabbed the rebound and hit on a field goal to complete the night's scoring and prevent a Lion last - minute resurgence.

Baxter netted 14 points to pace the losers' never-say-die attack that almost proved a nemesis for Coach Rick Berryman's squad, who are now tied with Lisbon for first place in the league. Both have perfect records in the Tri-County and are 7-1 overall.

The Clippers, who were expected to win handily, hit on 19 of 66 attempted field goal shots while the Lions struck on 14 of 45.

Columbiana's sole defeat was at the hands of Springfield Local's potent squad, 58-51, in the season's opener.

Coach Berryman hopes to have his charges at peak performance tonight for the crucial battle with the Lisbon Blue Devils with the outcome perhaps determining the crown.

In overtime, Columbiana's reserves whipped Minerva 41-37.

Leetonia Roms Over Sebring 74-57

Homecoming Crowd Sees Bears Win

Southpaw Frank Guerrier had his hottest night of the season Friday, scorching the nets for 29 markers to lead his Leetonia Bears to a 74-57 trouncing of the Sebring Trojans at Leetonia's Homecoming.

The Bears' senior back court ace, who normally ends up in double figures, zipped through 15 of 20 free throws and tossed in seven field goals to help the team to their third victory in four starts in Tri-County League play.

A 30-point spree by the victors in the third quarter hoisted them out of reach of the hard-battling Trojans who tied the Bears four times in the first half.

But gridiron star Guerrier's sizzling performance at the foul line coupled with sharp shooting by teammates Paul Conrad with 14 points and Jay Holloway with 13 overwhelmed the hapless visitors.

Best pointmakers for the Trojans were Bob Akenhead and Ken Schneider with 11 each while Stan Partin added 10 more.

Leetonia is now pushing Columbiana and Lisbon, current leaders in the league scramble. Sebring has yet to win a league game.

Leetonia dropped all four, and is 1-7 overall.

Sebring's reserves fared better than the varsity, edging the Bears 45-41.

Coach Len Batcha's squad will try to improve their league standing still further tonight when the Bears meet Minerva at the Stark Countians' gym. The Trojans tangle with rebounding Louisville in a battle for the cellar.

A word from THERON at the Country Store

Speaking of changes, have you ever seen in your life such a big change in anything as in that Youngstown radio station. I used to advertise there, it brought me thousands of very nice rather conservative people.

I wonder what it would bring me now if I should advertise. Frankly, I'm almost afraid to try. Will those same people come swinging and dancing in my door or will it be a new group.

Country Store Club Steak Dinner Winner: Mrs. Mervin Paste, Columbiana, O.

Frustration of War

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—One of the frustrations of war reporting is that often you never learn the end of a story—how things finally come out for individuals you meet.

An incident I have in mind is the strange case of a soldier whose arm felt guilty.

It happened 20 years ago this month. I was quartered with several other correspondents—in those days we hitchhiked about the battlefronts—in an abandoned French home in a small town in Tunisia in North Africa.

One morning I went to an American field hospital in the town. The sky was bright, the day was clear, and the war seemed far away. It did, that is, until I entered the hospital and saw the souvenirs war always leaves—men wearing white bandages stained red.

I talked to a doctor briefly about the wounded. He pointed to a bed in the corner and said, "He's our most interesting patient at the moment."

The bed held a thin young dark-eyed Jewish private. He had a sensitive face, and looked more like a student violinist than a soldier. He wore no bandage that I could see, but there was an air of immeasurable listlessness about him.

After a short chat, he began to tell me his story. As I recall it now, he had been on a patrol, and the patrol was surprised by Nazi troops.

The other members of the American patrol scattered or were killed in hand to hand combat.

Suddenly the young Jewish soldier found himself alone facing two of the enemy closing in on him fast. You hear a lot about bayonet fighting in war. Actually it is extremely rare. Probably less than one frontline soldier in a thousand ever employs a bayonet for its designed purpose.

This young soldier, who had never met an enemy before, had no time to aim and fire. Instinctively, he lunged forward with his bayonet and killed one of the Nazis instantly.

He whirled. The second Nazi was about to fire. The young soldier thrust the bayonet forward again with all his might. He felt it go to the hilt through soft flesh. "I'll never forget his face," said the young American. "His gun dropped from his hand, and he looked surprised, as if he couldn't believe this had happened to him."

When I pulled out the bayonet, he fell to the ground. And he lay there in the mud, crying in German for his mother, until he died."

The re-living of his ordeal had excited the young soldier. He lay back on his bed, exhausted.

"Were you wounded?" I asked.

"No, I'm all right," he replied listlessly. "It's just my arm. My right arm. It won't work."

Puzzled, I went back to the doctor.

"The boy is suffering from hysterical paralysis," he explained. "He had a strong religious upbringing, and he has violated one of his creed's strongest injunctions—'Thou shalt not kill.'"

"Logically, he realizes he had to inflict death in self-defense, but his mind merely has transferred the blame to his right arm. His arm is literally paralyzed with a feeling of guilt."

Well, the war moved on, I never saw or heard of the young Jewish soldier again.

But for 20 years I have wondered Did he finally make peace with himself? Did his arm ever forgive itself for taking two enemy lives in order to save his own.

HELD IN MURDER
CINCINNATI (AP)—Dennis Osborne and Jerry Scott, both 20, have been charged with first-degree manslaughter in the death of Steven Tabscott, 20.

Suburban Norwood police said Tabscott died of a head injury early Thursday after a drunken brawl. Paul Rainey, 20, of Ellwood City, Pa. was held as a material witness in the case which comes up for preliminary hearing next Thursday in Hamilton County Court.

WORK IS HALTED
CINCINNATI (AP) — Work on setting up a new missile and space section at General Electric's plant in suburban Evendale has stopped. David F. Shaw, general manager of the GE jet engine department, said the postponement of expansion plans was due to recent contract terminations.
